FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE—EXPLORE, EXPERIMENT, EXPERIENCE: LUMINAIRE X PRESENTS A FASHION SHOW
WITH VISIONARY DESIGNER ANKE LOH

February 10, 2009, Miami Design District, Miami, Florida—
LuminaireX is pleased to announce an event that weaves technology with fashion. In her first Miami appearance, Anke Loh will present over ten garments made of a special fabric woven with fiber optics. The fundamental aim of this advanced project is to explore new concepts, and to go beyond the limitations that a discipline such as fashion could pose. Loh's Aloft video will play in the cinema and she may also surprise us with her latest-illuminated clothing that responds to sound and temperature.

Anke Loh earned her BFA and MFA in Fashion from the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Antwerp. She currently teaches in the Fashion Department at The School of the Art Institute of Chicago. Explore, experiment, experience—and see how good design can change your life and your community.
